THANKSGIVING DAY THURSDAY, NOV. 27

President Issues His First Proclamation and Calls Attention to Things Accomplished in 1912

Washington, Oct. 23.—President Wilson today designated Thursday, November 27, as Thanksgiving day and issued his first Thanksgiving proclamation in which he says:

"The season is at hand in which it has been our long-respected custom as a people to turn in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His manifold mercies and blessings to us as a nation. The year that has passed has been marked in a peculiar degree by manifestation of His gracious and beneficent providence. We have not only had peace throughout our own borders and with the nations of the world, but that peace has been brightened by constantly multiplying evidence of genuine friendship, of mutual sympathy and understanding, and of the happy operation of many elevating influences both of ideal and practice.

"The nation has been prosperous not only, but has proved its capacity to take calm counsel amidst the rapid movement of affairs and deal with its own life in spirit of candor, righteousness and comity. ### BLOWING IT IN

The rich man dies and leaves his son the means to have unbounded fun. With sixty thousand and plunks a year to keep the sporting wheels in gear, the young man has no need of toil, no thought his dainty hands to soil, but gads about the whole night long with rounders of the red light throng. For him the joy ride and the booze, the midnight lark, the daylight snooze, the ways that foolish mortals tread—he tries them all, they turn his head; and some day we will see his name mixed up with lurid deeds of shame. Old Nick finds work for idle hands; and in due time he surely lands on most of those who loaf and shirk and hear no call to honest work. With sixty thousand per to spend it is not hard to guess the end of him who has no daily task except in luxury to bask. The poor boy thinks the road is rough, and often feels that work is tough; but he should hug himself and say "I'm awful glad I'm not the jay whose only job is blowing in his late lamented daddy's tin."

new sympathies, new bonds, and new achievements of co-operation and peace.

"Righteousness exalteth a nation" and peace on earth, good will towards man furnish the only foundations upon which can be built the lasting achievements of a human spirit. The year has brought us the satisfaction of work well done and fresh visions of our duty which will make the work of the future better still."
